Wine Geese Package – 1 night

With the flight of the “Wild Geese” in the late 1600s came a long-standing tradition of Irish Winemaking. “Wild Geese” refers to the departure of Irish soldiers to France following the Williamite-Jacobite war. The term “Wine Geese” emerged later to describe those emigrant soldiers and families who became involved in the wine trade. Many of these families played a crucial role in developing France's wine industry, most notably in Bordeaux.

Arrive at Ballyfin and enjoy lunch on arrival. Later that afternoon, an introduction to the “Wine Geese” and tasting from 4 houses in Bordeaux directly connected to the Irish Wild Geese of the 1600s. Enjoy a pre-dinner drink in the library, followed by a gourmet dinner menu in the evening. After a restful night's sleep, enjoy a sumptuous breakfast before departure. The package is based on full board and also includes teas, coffees with homemade cake and cookies, soft drinks, bedroom soft drinks minibar, VAT and gratuities.
